LONDON, April 24, 5 a.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The strong body of reinforcements which Lord Roberts sent to assist the relief of Wepener and to endeavor to envelop and cut off the Boers from a retreat northward, furnishes witheres that the Boers nishes further evidence that the Boers nishes further evidence that the Boers are assembled in much larger force around Wepener than had hitherto been supposed, and as the Times, in an editorial this morning remarks, whatever may be the difficulties of roads and rains, the Boers always appear to have guns, and sometimes bi ones, where they want them. A Boer dispatch dated Thabancht April 20, says that a fresh supply ( cannon and ammunition has reached Gen. Dewet at Jammersburg Drift. It also asserts that one of Col. Dalgetty's guns has been smashed.

Apparently the British captured evacuated Leeuw Kop during the night, removing the gun, and the Brit-ish occupied the kop the next morning. Although the Boers appear to be offering stout resistance to the Britoffering stout resistance to the British advance, their position is dangerous. They can exacely delay further their retreat northward without incurring the risk of being cut off.

Usually they have been well informed regarding the British plane, and they are not likely to run such a risk, espectally as they have partially accomplished their object in drawing large forces from Bloemfontein in long marches, and have thereby delayed the advance on Pretoria.

[A. P. EARLY A.M. REPORT.]

MONTREAL, April 23.—Regarding he arrest in Chicago of Count oulouse Lautrec Chief Detective Car. penter says that about two weeks ago, a man who represented himself to be a rich Cuban banker of the name of N. Castano, reached Montreal. He presented his papers to the manager of a local bank, who, after a careful examination, was satisfied of the man's identity. Drafts were made out and accepted. It was not long before the local bankers became convinced that they had been imposed upon. After some time it was found that Castano had levi instructions to have his mail forwarded to the Auditorium in Chicago. Chief Carpenter would not give the name of the banker at present, or the amount of the forgery. Police Inspector Hartnett, acting on telegraphic advices from the Canadian police, today took out fugitive warrants for Count De Lautrec. The debate upon it will be started May 1, and at about 4 o'clock May 2 the House will pass the bill authorizing the beginning of the work of construction of the waterway. This was all decided today, It started last week, when California's Congressional delegation went to the White House and saw the President. Plain talk was indulged in at that conference on both sides. This morning

Plain talk was indulged in at that con-ference on both sides. This morning: Representative Burton of Ohio, who heretofore has prevented the bill from coming up, called at the White House and had a talk with the President. There was more plain talk at this con-ference. When it was ended, Mr. Bur-ton went up to the Capitol feeling rather meek.

When the House convened, Rep Men the house convened Representative Hepburn asked unanimous consent that the Canal Bill be taken up May I, discussed that day, and a vote be taken on the day following. Everybody looked at Mr. Burton for an objection, but that gentleman held his peace. He had been subdued at last, When the bill comes up it will be amended, and may be it will be amended so as not to provide for construction of the canal over any specific route, but next year the Senate will pass a bill, the matter will go to conference, be reported in proper shape, agreed to by both houses, the West will salute the East, and Collis Huntington will gnaw a rusty file.

Until today the debate has been desultory in character. Tomorrow at 4 p.m., under a special order, the case is to be disposed of. A direct vote upon the proposition to seat Quay may not be taken immediately after the close of the debate. Senator Chandler has a motion pending to seat Quay, but it is held by the Senate parliamentarians that every subsidiary motion will take precedence over Mr. Chandler's motion. These include motions to indefinitely postpone; to postpone for a definite date; to recommit to the committee and to amend. How the Senate will vote on any of them is a matter of speculation.

In support of Quay's right to a seat, speeches were delivered today by Mr. Chandler of New Hampshire, Mr. Kenney of Delaware and Mr. Penrose of Pennsylvania. Mr. Platt of Connecticut and Mr. Quarles of Wisconsin delivered speeches in opposition to Quay.

The House today entered upon consideration of the Postoffice Appropriation Bill, and the general debate which closed with the adjournment this afternoon was devoted largely to discussion of pertinent matters. GOV. BRADY TALKS.

[A. P. EARLY A.M. REPORT.] NEW YORK, April 23.—Gov. John G. Brady of Alaska is in this city. For some days he has been in Washington this session. He will return to Wash-

"The main thing that is agitating to do something for Alaska," said Gov. Brady in an interview last night. "It is impossible for us to get along without law courts for one thing. It is unfair to expect Gen. Randall, with is unfair to expect Gen. Randail, with a-few troops, to keep in order the twenty-five thousand or thirty thousand people who are expected to go to Alaska during the coming season.
The bill which is now before the Sente would give an expected reality. ate would give us much needed relief from the unsatisfactory state of things from the unsatisfactory state of things which we have now to contend with. It would give us a civil code, three full district courts, with competent jurisdiction over all persons and maritime and mining questions.

"We wish to organize Alaska into a Territory, but it is impossible for us to do so until Congress gives us adequate land laws. We already have mining laws, and there is no trouble about getting title to a mine, but you cannot get a title for a home, and therefore those who wish to make their homes in Alaska have no incentive to settle there, because they cannot obtain a title to their land. There are many people who went into Alaska soon after its transfer who have continued to live there year, constantly hoping that they year, constantly hoping that they would get the wished-for title, but they are hoping yet. The want of these land laws has retarded the growth of Alaska more than anything else."

Mr. Tawney was emphatic in the con-tention that as oleomargarine was a food product, Congress and the public were entitled to know its ingredients. Against this, however, it was argued that the law forbade the internal-reve-

CLARK'S CASE REPORTED TO THE SENATE.

EVIDENCE OF CORRUPTION.

Committee on Privileges and Elections Unanimously Recommends the Adoption of a Resolution That the Montana Man Was not Legally Elected Senator-Features of the

[A. P. DAY REPORT.] WASHINGTON, April 23.—Senator Chandler of the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections today submitted to the Senate the report of that committee in the case of William A. Clark of Montana. The report is com-paratively brief, covering only about fifteen pages of printed matter. It not rehearse the testimony, but simply presents the finding of the committee and its reasons for its course. The finding is stated as follows: "The finding of the committee is that the election to the Senate of William A. Clark of Montana is null and void, on account of briberies, attempted briberies and corrunt practices by his eries and corrupt practices by his eries and corrupt practices by his agents, and of violation of the laws of Montana defining and punishing crimes against the elective franchise." In view of the finding the committee reports and unanimously recommends the adoption by the Senate of the following resolutions:

"Resolved, that William A. Clark was not duly and legally elected to a seat in the Senate of the United States by the Legislature of the State of Montana."

is made in view of certain admitted or undisputed facts, with their attendant circumstances, appearing in the testimony taken by the committee, and these are numerated under fifteen headings, as follows:

First—The expenditures in the contest of 1895, as testified to by Senator Clark and Gov. Hauser.

Second—Queting the law of 1895, relative to crimes against elective franchise, which limited in purpose and amount the political expenditures which could be made in any election, either by political committee or a candidate, especially naming a candidate for United States Senator, who could not give more than $1000 to any one committe in the county, and could not pay more than $1000 for his personal expenses in lawful ways specified.

Third—Asserting that Senator Clark has been constantly a candidate for office and gives his record in that repenses in lawful ways specified.

Third-Asserting that Senator Clark has been constantly a candidate for office and gives his record in that respect, and notes the organization of a committee in his interest in the summer of 1898, after the consultation with his friends in Butte.

"To this committee," report says, "He gave unlimited authority to spend money which he agreed to furnish, an estimate, however, being made that at least $50,000 would be necessary to secure the State convention, and that $75,000 might be needed to secure the State Legislature. In the canvass which ensued the approximate expenditures admitted by the various members of the committee and their assistants were as follows: Charles W. Clark, $25,000; by McDermott, $22,000; by Davidson, agent, $22,300; by Wellcome, $25,000; by Whitmore, $4500; by Cooper, $25,000; mainly furnished by Charles W. Clark, and the amount of these expenditures Senator Clark himself paid to his son. The advances and payments made by Senator Clark himself paid to his son. The advances and payments made by Senator Clark himself paid to which sum Charles W. Clark received recting that $5000 should be given to Mr. Day for his services in the Legislature, and as a retainer as counsel in the future. This amount was received by Mr. Day through Mr. Wellcome and Mr. Davidson on the 23d day of March, the day after the Legislature adjourned."

After detailing the circumstances, the report says: "While the findings of the committee are justified by the foregoing admitted and undisputed facts, with their attendant circumstances, with their attendant circumstances standing alone, these facts are ceived by Mr. Day through Mr. Well-come and Mr. Davidson on the 23d day of March, the day after the Legislature adjourned."

After detailing the circumstances, the report says: "While the findings of the committee are justified by the foregoing admitted and undisputed facts, with their attendant circumstances standing alone, these facts are strengthened by additional facts, including various unsuccessful attempts to secure votes by offers of money which, although denied, are found by the majority of the committee to be sustained by the preponderance of the testimony."

The committee adds that it would unnecessarily incumber and extend this report to give these additional facts in detail, but "in addition to these unsuccessful attempts at bribery, certain other alleged attempts are narrated, because there is difference of opinion in the committee concerning them." These latter attempts relate especially to former State Senator Whiteside's connection with the candidacy of Senator Clark and his efforts to expose the Senator's methods. The testimony relating to Whiteside, State Senator Clark, State Senator Myers and Representative Garr was then outlined, and the committee the proport says:

Should be annulled, although proof is lacking that he knew of the bribery or attempted that the knew of the bribery or carryt practice.

Second—It seems to have been admitted that if the person elected that if the person elected bribery or attempted that if the person elected that if the person elec sustained by the preponderance of the testimony."

Frank L. Campbell, who succeeds Webster Davis as Assistant Secretary of the Interior, is 56 years of age. He was born in West Virginia, and left Washington and Jefferson College to enter the Union army. At the close of the war, he opened the first free school in West Virginia. In 1870 he came to Washington as an employé in the Census Office, and rose steadily to an assistant attorneyship in the office of the Assistant Attorney-General for the Interior Department, which position he has held for nineteen years, having by promotions become first assistant attorney. Mr. Campbell has always been an earnest Republican. It is understood that Secretary Hitchcock asked for Mr. Campbell's appointment.

BANK OF ENGLAND GRIPS THE MONEY MARKET.

BILL BROKERS BECOME RECON-CILED TO INEVITABLE.

Bank Continues to Charge Five Per Cent. for Short Advances and Makes No Departure from the Rule-Stock Markets Uncomfortable-A Day of Reckoning Approaches.

[A. P. EARLY A.M. REPORT.] NEW YORK, April 23.—The Times
London financial correspondent cables:
"The British money market is in the state known to scientists as unstable equilibrium. The bill brokers have grumblingly reconciled themselves to the inevitable, and no longer seriously attempt to depress rates, for they have lost money by their recent efforts in that direction. The Bank of England holds the market in its grip, and has done so more or less effectively sinch February 11 last. Compared with the weekly return of the date just antecedent to that, the market owes the bank today over £4,250,000 more, and cannot possibly pay up. In other words, almost the whole of the last instalment of "khakis" has been borrowed, and attempt to depress rates, for they have most the whole of the last instalment of "khakis" has been borrowed, and another £3,000,000 comes on May 2.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.1 LOUISVILLE (Ky.,) April 23.—Pour-ng rains continue throughout the flood fistricts of the South, and the danger to lives and property is becoming more grave. It was thought Saturday that the crisis was passed, but in many localities rain is falling, with in-creased violence. Late reports to the Weather Bureau show that heavy precipitation has been general within th ast twelve hours throughout the flood country. It was estimated last Saturday that $3,000,000 worth of private property had already been destroyed, and it is now thought probable that the damage will be heavily increased.
Mail and telgraph communication has been destroyed, between the smaller towns in Mississippi and Alabama, south of Jackson, the northern limit of the flood. Many farmhouses have been swept away, the occupants barely escaping with their lives, and the drowning of a family of seven negroes is reported from Jackson, Miss.

A special from Lake Charles, La., is to the effect that miles of the track of the Kansas City, Pitsburgh and Guif, Railroad are under water from one to hree feet deep.

Railroad are under water from one to three feet deen.

A heroic fight is going on at Scranton and Moss Point, Miss., by railroad and lumber men to save the large property interests in that locality from further damage by floods. All depends upon whether the enormous log boom at Moss Point holds or not, and tonight is expected to bring the heaviest test. It has been decided that the flood is too violent to permit of the use of transfer boats at night. Consequently there was no night train out of New Gricans but the 12 o'clock mail was made up, and proceeded footh on time.

Among those transferred today were De Wolf Honder and his company, who came through on a special train from New Orleans, arriving at 6 o'clock. Jackson, Miss.. reports that Peari River rose one inch this afternoon. The weather is clear, and it is thought the worst in that vicinity is over. From Meridian south the flood situation has changed for the worse. Heavy rains last night caused a decided rise in all the streams, and every report from that vicinity today was disheartening to the officials of the railroads, who fear traffic cannot be resumed inside of three weeks.

One of the British captains saw the compliment and sent a protest to the English Ambassador at Washington, who, in turn, sent it to the State Department. The State Department declined to interfere on the grounds that a merchant marine man has the right to dip his colors to anything he sees fit, and also has the right to fly whatever he desires at his masthead. Thus a threatened complication because of an American recognition of a Danish captain's courtesy to the Boer cause was avoided.

POST CHAPLAIN'S DEATH.

DAVID H. SHIELDS EXPIRES AFTER A BATH.

IA. P. NIGHT REPORT.1 PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—David Harrington Shields, a post chaplain in the United States army, died suddenly today in the Pennsylvania Hospital. The Coroner has ordered a postpital. The Coroner has ordered a postmortem examination to determine the cause of death.

Shields, who is supposed to be about 47 years of age, went to ay hotel this morning, ostensibly to take a Turkish bath; while there he was taken suddenly ill, and an ambulance was called, which took the sick man to the hospital, where he died. A letter to the Coroner from Dr. John I. McKelway states that death was probably due to pneumonia and alcoholism, with a story of an alleged injury to the head.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE EVENT April 10 was the regular day for the ection of directors of the Phoenis of Commerce, The occasion as taken by the retiring president, J. Adams, for a manifestation of his nterest in the institution and of his good will toward its members. By his invitation, upon the evening of the day, there assembled at the Hotel Adam about one hundred and fifty members of the board, to participate in a banquet. L. H. Chalmers acted as toastmaster, the addresses being by S. M. McCowan, C. M. Frazier, W. J. Murphy, Maj. Picands, Judge J. H. Kibbey, Dr. Duffield, W. E. Annin, C. W. Crouse and by the host. The remarks were eulogistic of Mr. Adams, and particularly concerned his activity in the establishment of the organization that had done such excellent work during the past year in celebrating abroad the attractions of Maricopa county. Mr. Adams took occasion to reiterate what he had before said, that now that the Board of Trade was firmly established, he desired to devote his time more especially to his own private affairs and would therefore decline the election to the directorate. After reading of the report, the followingood will toward its members. By his

Hall, Walter Talbot, B. Heyman, Prof. S. M. McCowan, J. W. Evans, J. Ernest Walker and Vernon L. Clark. Later J. W. Evans was elected president and H. M. Chapman was relected secretary.

NOVEL SCHEME. Some Phoenix men have struck a lovel scheme for the legitimate acquinovel scheme for the legitimate acquisition of lucre. They have organized no less than 100 mining corporations, covering about all phases of mining, including lode, drift, placer and beach mining, and have succeeded in finding appropriate names for each of the organizations. The capitalizations vary, but the general scheme is the same. The companies are all legally organized under the haws of Arizona, with resident agents and with full publication provided of the articles of incorporation, with printed stock books and certificates, and in all ways complete. The incorporators of the bunch are Lincoln Fowler, F. B. Fowbooks and certificates, and in all ways complete. The incorporators of the bunch are Lincoln Fowler, F. B. Fowler, S. F. Webb and James Bark. Bark is already on his way, and in a few days Lincoln Fowler is to leave for Cape Nome with a trunkful of these incorporations, for the companies are on paper only, and have no other tangible claim to existence. At the cape, he will sell ready-made companies in lots to suit and expects to make a very fat profit in the selling, for it's a long way from Cape Nome to any point where legal incorporations could be formed, and the trip and the experience would be expensive and time-consuming. The Arizona laws save the incorporators' personal property from liability for corporate debts, and the Arizona way is really the most favorable for the man who would secure protection of his own estate from a company's injudicious speculation.

FOREST PRESERVE SOCIETY. Under call of a number of the unty officers, a meeting has been county officers, a meeting has been held in Phoenix for the organization of a forest-preserve association. Supervisor John R. Norton is chairman of the temporary organization and Secretary Chapman of the Board of Trade is secretary. The particular object of the association is work tending toward the exclusion of sheep and goats from the forest preserves of Arizona, and, as well, to protect the farming interests of the Salt River Valley against the encroachments of farmers on the upper Verde River, who now, with new ditches are reaching out after irrigating water that rightfully belongs to the farmers frar Phoenix.

NAVAL AFFAIRS COMMITTEE.

PEARL HARBOR IMPROVEMENTS [A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.] NEW YORK, April 23.—A special to the Tribune from Washington says Secretary Long has sent to the Naval Affairs Committee of the Senate and House of Representatives, the adopted plans for establishing a navaldezvous, repair plant and coaling sta tion at Pearl Harbor, Hawaiian Islands, with an urgent recommendation pointing out the necessity for promptly instituting the improvements to utilize this key to the entire Pacific Ocean. In its present condition, the harbor is worthless to the United States or to commerce, but by a comparatively insignificant expenditure will become one of 'he most valuable of the national possessions. Senator Hale has promptly introduced a bill drawn at the Navy Department for this purpose. It authorized the Secretary of the Navy to condemn under the 'Hawaiian civil laws of eminent domain for the establishment of a naval station in Pearl Harbor, Island of Oahu, four tracks of land with an aggregate area of about one thousand eight hundred and eighty acres. One of these is the 'island known as "Mokuumeume' or Ford Island, comprising about three hundred and seventy acres. Another is a nearby Peninsular tract called Walpo, with an area of about eight hundred and twenty acres. These two will constitute the naval station proper. They are admirably located, and peculiarly adapted by nature for naval uses. tion at Pearl Harbor, Hawaiian Islands, with an urgent recommendation

KIM QUEY RETRACTS.

[A. P. DAT REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—When the case of Kim Quey, the Chinese girl who was abducted on the night of March 30 at Palo Alto, came up for March 30 at Palo Atto, came up for hearing before Commissioner Heacock today, Dr. John E. Gardiner, the Chi-nese interpreter, testified that Kim Quey had told him, in the presence of Miss Cameron of the Chinese mission, that her testimony in the abduction proceedings in San José was a fabrica-tion. At San José the girl swore that proceedings in San José was a fabrication. At San José the girl swore that she was a native of this country; that she had been married freely to Wong Ting Ling, a merchant and one of the accused, and that she had gone voluntarily to Palo Alto with Wong Fong, who, therefore, had not abducted her. She had stuck to this story under threats of death if she changed it. Dr. Gardiner also said:

"The poor girl, not knowing the English language, in terror of her life, told the story that had been put into her mouth. That story she solemnly retracted. She told us that she was not born in this country, but that she came hither with the Chinese exhibit for the Atlanta Exposition. There was an arrangement between the United States and China by which the party by the exhibit were to be permitted to enter this country, but were to return to China after the exhibition. Kim Quey says that she was smuggled away from the party and was taken to this city, where her owners forced her to lead a life of shame, from which she was rescued by the Presbyterian mission. Wong Fong took her out of the custody of the mission, where she was quite willing to remain, by accusing her of grand larceny."

Attorney Herrington, one of the accused men, did not appear in court today, and the case went over until tomorrow in order to give him an opthrough the surrounding coun-tere they inspected the mines redger operations. He had been till but four days. Deceased was a Native Son, and had been elected as a delegate to the Grand Parlor of the order at Oroville. He was 26 years of age.

Shocked, but Will Recover. ANGELS CAMP, April 23.—Matt McGuerk, an electrician working at the Lightner mine, came in contact with a live wire carrying 16,000 volts yesterday, and was rendered senseless for a time. He was badly burned, but will recover. It is considered marvelous that he should live to relate his experience after such a shock.

Half-million Lost in Prunes. Half-million Lost in Prunes.

PORTLAND (Or.,) April 23.—Late reports from the prune districts of Oregon and Washington indicate that the damage to the prune crop by the frosts of the past ten days will reach nearly $500,000. While, in Southern Oregon, the peach and pear crops were damaged somewhat, the main damage in other districts is to the prune crop.

Hospital Inmate Commits Suicide. STOCKTON, April 23.—George W. King, an inmate of the State Hospital, committed suicide yesterday by hanging himself with a towel, which he fixed to a window bar in a closet. King was sent to the hospital from Alameda, and was afflicted with homicidal insanity. He was 69 years of age.

Buckwheat Thieves Get Ten Years. SACRAMENTO, April 23.—W. H. Prather and Charles Davis, who were found guilty of grand larceny last Saturday night for stealing fifty sacks of buckwheat from the ranch of John Miller, were today sentenced by Judge Hart to ten years' imprisonment each in the penitentiary.

THE HAMBOURG-PETSCHNIKOFF-

LACHAUME CONCERT. The Hambourg-Petschnikoff-Lach chaume concert at Simpson Auditorium last evening drew a fair-sized audi-ence but was deserving of a much larger attendance than that of the appreciative music-lovers who gathered larger attendance than that of the appreciative music-lovers who gathered to do homage to the three artists.

It would be hard to decide who of the soloists, Hambourg, the planist, or Petschnikoff, the violinist, was the more popular with the audience, so evenly were the honors divided. Each received three and four recalls following their principal numbers, quite approaching an ovation.

Petschnikoff's tone is unquestionably the most sympathetic and exquisite that has been heard here. Its quality at times, as in the romanzas of the Grieg sonata and the Wienlawski concerto, was as the supplication of a human voice, in tenderness and pathos. In the beautiful "Melodie," by Tschaikowski, as, too, in the romanza of the Wienlawski concerto, the pure, smooth tones, rising to thread-like delicacy and dying away to aimost inaudible faintness were exquisite in effect.

M. Petschnikoff was given an excellent opportunity for the lisplay of neat technical work in the Wienlawski smooth phrases, and ending with a brilliant technical display, was an effective piece of work and was followed by demonstrative applause. Petschnikoff plays with an exceeding high arm. His left hand work displays Irreproachable development, and a notably agreeable feature about his playing is the MAYAS.

OAXACA (Mex.) April 23.—Gen, Brayo's force of Mexican troops has had several severe engaements with the Maya Indians in Yucaton during the last ten days, and the rebels have softeed a heavy loss in killed and wounded.

Co. Francisco Gonzales, son of former President Gonzales, led a brilliant attack on a strongly-enterenched position occupied by a force of 500 Indians, and drove the latter back into the dense forcests. The government troops captured a large store of arms and ammunition, and found supplies while the tracks which the Indians abandoned in their leasy retreat.

most planists, and with the world practically still ahead of him, great things should be expected of him.

M. Lachaume is no stranger to Los Angeles, where his excellence as a planist is well recognized. His work last evening in the Grieg Sonata, the Wienlawski concerto and the accompaniments for the violin was admirable and wholly satisfying, if one may except the over-topping of M. Petschnikoff's pizzleato in the Grieg romanza, which was almost wholly covered by the plano.

The second and farewell concert by Hambourg, Petschnikoff and Lachaume will be given tomorrow afternoon.

For Friday night two receptions have been planned, one at the Westminster, the State League headquarters, beginning at 8 o'clock, and the other at league headquarters, on Spring street, commencing at 9:30 p.m. The Reception Committee has made provision for an abundance of punch and light refreshments that will not alone be served upon Friday night, but during the two days of the convention. Saturday the real work of the convention will be taken in hand. Officers for the ensuing term will be chosen, reports of committees will be heard, and the general business of the convention, entering upon a campaign year, will be transacted. One of the principal objects of the convention will be the selection of thirty-four delegates to represent the State league in the National Republican League on the National Republican League Convention to be held in St. Paul July 17 and 19. These delegates will be apportioned as follows: Four from each of the seven Congress districts, and 'six at large. san wrangle, action upon either side being taken with a view to its effect upop the approaching election. A new tariff bill, well called "the tariff of abominations," passed in the last hours of the session, was of such a character. It was protective solely, no additional revenue being then needed, and its purpose was to secure votes for Jackson in the States favoring protection. By a deep-laid scheme attributed to the willy Van Buren, the duties were laid in such a way as to offend the New England supporters of Adams, while pleasing the producers of raw materials in the Middle and Western States. Jackson men from all quarters were to support the bill, but on the final vote the southern members were to turn round and, voting with the New England men, defeat the measure, but the odium of the defeat was to be cast upon New England. To the surprise of the plotters, the bill, with its absurd and obnoxious features almost unchanged, became a law. The South was furious. For years it had seen itself left far behind the North in the growth of population and wealth. It saw New England becoming rich and powerful under protected manufactures, the Central and Western States developing rapidly under protected raw materials. Its own prosperity appeared to depend upon the untrammeled exportation to Europe of its cotton, rice and tobacco, with the free importation thence of the manufactured goods required. POLITICAL PARTIES V.—PARTIES DURING THE JACKSON

BY JESSE MACY. LL.D.

From the election of 1824 may be dated the rise of what is often called "Jacksonian Democracy," which is the personal rule of the most popular mar The old Republican or Democratic-Re-The old Republican of Democratic-Republican party was rent into a number of factions, each gathered round the person of an aspirant to the Presidency. Jackson had the largest following, and the characteristic tendency in nocratic nations for the people to divide into two fairly equal political bodies now began to assert itself. In the final choosing of a President it was natural for the weaker factions to combine against the strongest. Clay, being out of the race, held the decision in his own hands, since his electoral votes given to one or another of the remaining candidates would determine the result. Crawford, feeble and palsled, seemed an impossible choice. There was strong personal enmity between Jackson and Clay, while the Calhoun and Jackson forces were drawing together. It was apparently inevitable that Clay's votes should be given to Adams. The day following Adams's election he announced his choice of Clay for Secretary of State, and charges of a corrupt political "bargain" have ever since out of the race, held the decision in his clung to the names of those two high-minded, upright and patriotic men. There was never any trustworthy proof of the assumed fact, but the cloud shadowed all Clay's after career, and was one of the influences contributing to the turbulence of Adams's term of office.

Out of the personal rivairies of this period political parties based to a considerable extent upon questions of governmental policy are now seen to emerge. President Adams set forth definite and positive principles upon which he proposed to shape his administrative career. Giving a liberal construction to the terms of the Constitution, he warmly favored internal improvements by Federal aid, and advocated national education. Trouble in Georgia respecting the final settlement of treaties with the Creek Indians, which involved disputes as to certain lands, led to the firm declaration by the executive of his intention to maintain Federal rights against the arrogant assertion of the power of the State to override United States authority. In the resulting Congressional debate upon this matter, Webster's powerful voice was heard in support of the administration, while southern members freely raised the cry of Federal infringement upon the constitutional rights of States and interference with domestic concerns, coupled with threats of withdrawal from the Union. But the opponents of the President in Congress withheld their support, and the weakness of the administration was domestic concerns, coupled with threats of withdrawal from the Union. But the opponents of the President in Congress withheld their support, and the weakness of the administration was shown by Georgia's successful deflance. When the tariff questions came to the front, it was apparent that North and South were divided upon the subject of protection also. Underlying the various differences as they rose may be seen the old constitutional quarrel between strict and broad interpretation of the Constitution. State sovereignty and the subremacy of the national government. The administration of Adams was a clean, honorable and dignified one. He persistently refused to use the public patronage for his personal one. He persistently refused to use the public patronage for his personal one. Adams was a minority President. Jackson was the people's choice. Scarcely had the executive taken the official oath in 1825 when Jackson was announced as a candidate for the election of 1828.

ANDREW JACKSON.

ANDREW JACKSON.

The old Democratic-Republican party woke to new life under Jackson's leadership. His brilliant military success had made him the popular idol. He represented the eager, aspiring, indomitable spirit of the great new West, and the limitations of his training from poverty and frontier conditions only endeared him the more to the hearts of the people, who understood the crude, uncultured, but self-reliant manhood which "makes circumstances" and disregards conditions. The new era in American politics inaugurated by Jackson's triumphant election in 1823 lasted to the civil war. More than any President who preceded him, he was elected by the people. The newer States had entered the Union with manhood suffrage practically unrestricted, and property qualifications in the older States were becoming less stringent. Jackson was the choice of the new electorate. He stood for the direct power of the people. Dominion was passing from the hands of Congress to those of the executive, who had become the embodiment of the new ideal, "popular sovereignty." The overbearing assumption by the Congressional caucus of the right to dictate to the people for whom they might vote as candidate for the Presidency faded away as Jackson's star arose, and the convention system, appealing directly to the voters and conforming to the rising popular ideals in government, became established in national politics.

PARTY EVOLUTION. ANDREW JACKSON. PARTY EVOLUTION.

PARTY EVOLUTION.

The new system was part and parcel with the rise of a new order of political parties. It gave to their organisation that completeness and effectiveness which insured their perpetuity and created in American political life a force destined to work great results for weal and for woe in the unquiet times of the darkening future. "Here is a revolution," wrote John Quincy Adams of this extension of party organization. And he foresaw, as did Calhoun, also, tragedy and disaster from the violence of the popular passions to be engendered and fostered by the new methods. But this development of party machinery was not a revolution, it was a natural evolution. The seeds of the mighty growth were planted deep in the soil of English history, and were warmed to life by the sunshine of new-world democracy.

PARTY NAMES.

Out of the Democratic-Republican party during John Quincy Adams's term of office came forth two opposing parties, neither ready to yield the right to the time-honored name. The Adams and Clay forces asserted themselves to be the genuine Republicans of the true Jeffersonian type, and, being the administrative party, designated Jack, son's adherents as "the opposition." But about 1830 the word "national" began to be placed before the party name, and for several years "National Republicans" was the accepted title of the followers of Clay. The Jackson party adhered to the hyphenated name (which is to this day the official name of the present Democratic party,) but it was soon shortened, and the party has ever since been called the Democratic party.

Within the ranks of the National Republicans gathered as years passed the various elements opposed to the Jacksonian politics—the anti-Masons, who had failed in effective party organization in 1832, the nullifiers of South Carolina, and the Georgia supporters of States' rights, disappointed and angered by the President's determined maintenance of the Federal supremacy, and those who held the old Federalist views. The amaigamation of these incongruous elements was facilitated in 1834 by the adoption of the new name, Whig, for the conglomerate party, a name which was supposed to embody the idea of resistance to executive tyranny in the person of Andrew Jackson, as it had stood for resistance to the crown in the days of the revolution. From that time for nearly twenty years Whigs and Democrats fought the political battles of the Union, and other effective parties there were none.

Jackson readily adopted the "New York plan" of using the public patronage and his official power of removal for "rewarding his friends and punishing his enemies." Van Buren of New York was his confidential manager, and the most skillful political manipulator of his time. They heartily agreed in appropriating as "victors" the "spoils" which they had won. In Jackson's first message rotation in office was declared "a leading principle in the republican creed." For the first time was witnessed at Washington that unseemly spectacle with which we have ever since been sadly familiar. A greedy mob of office-seekers thronged the White House for months after the inauguration, demanding of the President that "reward" to which their political services, past or prospective, were believed to entitle them. Experienced officers of the government were promptly removed that newspaper editors and others who had "worked" for Jackson might be gratified, and if remonstrances were made, the accomplished Secretary of State, with bland and polished manner, repiled: "We give no reasons for our removals." The spoils system was accepted as a party cerning their mode of hving. with acknowledged that he and the widow were living together as man and wife, but contended that he was doing so by a higher authority than man, and therefore was doing no wrong.

Miss Emma Darling, 18 years old, who left home when Witt, through an alleged inspiration from above, insisted on giving her a bath, the same as he had all the smaller children, told about Witt and her mother occupying the front bedroom together.

"Was there any change in the household after Mr. Witt came?"

"Yes. We didn't have breakfast until 9 or 10 o'clock in the morning. Before he came we used to have breakfast about 6 o'clock. We didn't have so much to eat after he came."

"Why?"

"How many meals a day did you have before he came?"

"Three."

"How many did you have afterward?"

"Two."

On cross-examination she said:

he first came, and then went to sleep with him."
"How do you know they slept together?"

"Mamma called me into the room one night when they were in bed."
"And what did you say when you made this horrible discovery?" asked one of the defendant's attorneys.
"I told mamma that I didn't think it of her."
Charles Darling, 18 years old, said: "Mother occupied the same bed with Witt about forty days. I saw them in the same bed together."
When Mr. Thompson took the witness for cross-examination he started in by shaking his finger at the lad in a tragic manner, and used such buildoxing tacties that the court-called him down severely.

The widow praised God that He had sent her a husband, and said that she did not think that anyone had any right to interfere with their relations. One of us asked Witt if he realized that he was breaking the laws of the State, and he asserted that he was living with the woman by the authority of a higher power than man-made laws."

A recess was then taken until 2:30 p.m. At that time both of the defendant's attorneys sprung a surppise on court and speciators by withdrawing from the case. Justice Austin asked Witt if he was ready to proceed without attorneys. There was a second surprise who. Witt stood we are ing from the case. Justice Austin asked Witt if he was ready to proceed without attorneys. There was a second surprise when Witt stood up and said:

"It is not possible for me to see the case go any further. I simply plead guilty."

"Then it is your desire to change your plea of not guilty to guilty?" asked Justice Austin.

"Yes, sir."

"And you are willing to have the jury discharged and your plea of guilty entered?"

"Yes, sir."

The jury and witnesses were accordingly dismissed, and the court fixed tomorrow afternoon at 2 p.m. as the time for passing sentence on Witt.

Witt had a talk with Mr. Colvin yesterday forenoon, which is supposed to have influenced him in taking this action. Mr. Colvin is inclined to think that Witt is repentant, and has experienced a change of heart. The prosecution thinks that he simply realized the hole he is in, and threw up the sponge in the hope of lessening his punishment.

Humane Officer Craig will now make an effort to have Witt's two little children removed from the custody of Mrs. Darling.

slavery was the real clog to southern progress, southern men were not yet able to see, and a bitter feeling grew up against the national protective policy favored in the North.

In the Jackson party were men of all shades of opinion as to the tariff, while the Adamis and Clay forces were practically united in support of a protective policy. It seems to have been the plan of the latter to make protection the leading question in the campaign of 1828, but the Jackson managers chose to divert public attention from matters of national import to the personal charge of a corrupt political "deal" between Adams and Clay in the previous election.

MOROSCO'S BURBANK THEATER. Millocker's beautiful opera, "The Beggar Student," is the offering for the current week at the Burbank. This opera, as is well known, abounds in delightful arias and symphonious con-certed numbers, to an unusual degree. It is truly a feast of song and selody throughout its three delightful acts. The story of the piece is interestingnot a mere thread upon which the melodies are strung, but a plot that possesses a certain amount of contemporaneous human interest, though it has, perhaps, no very definite purpose, except the purpose to entertain (which is, indeed, purpose enough, provided the entertainment be rational and refined.) The story is essentially the story told in Bulwer Lytton's well-known grama. "The Lady of Lyons," with variations more or less wide, to suit the extgenedes of light operatic representation. The piece may properly be termed an operatic comedy, for it is opulent in comedy features and possesses a certain amount of contem it is opulent in tomedy features and situations, which are notably free from the broanness and coarseness of farce. William Wolff is vastly funny as Gen. Ollendorf. A comedian of excellent quality is Mr. Wolff, and an artist of wide experience in his chosen line of effort. His voice has splendid compass, and his rendering of the role of Ollendorf is a highly creditable piece of work, whether it be regarded from a dramatic or a vocal point of view.

Edith Mason's delicious, though light, soprano, and her singularly attractive personality lend an indefinable charm to the role of Laura, which she carries with dainty grace throughout—with one exception. Miss Mason's bow is something which needs amendment. It is not really a bow, but a queer little awkward jerk of the head, which is wholly out of harmony with her otherwise graceful bearing. Miss Mason ought to rehearse unceasingly until she conquers this defect.

as Bronislava, but her singing voice is not so strong as could be desired. She scored a joint hit with Winfred Goff, howeved, in a duet in the second act. The other principal characters are sustained for the most part with credit. The numerical strength of the chorus, both male and female, brings out some of the choruses with a symphonic power which makes the rafters tremele. There is an impossition in the last power which makes the rafters trem-ble. There is an innovation in the last act, in the form of an Amazonian march, which is beautifully executed by the young women of the chorus. The piece will run all the week, with a matinée on Saturday only.

LOS ANGELES THEATER. The offering of the Frawley company for the first half of this week at the Los Anfirst half of this week at the Los Angeles Theater is entitled "In Paradise." It is a farce, adapted from the French—and it is Frenchy in the fullest sense of the word. Its situations are decidedly risque, without being vulgar. her services when working on salary. That is remarkable indeed, as Papinta receives the very highest salary paid on the vaudeville stage.

The Papinta engagement was a great treat to the people of Riverside and neighboring towns, many of whom had never had the opportunity of seeing such an adept in the terpsichorean art. The Loring Operahouse was crowded at almost every performance, there being a good audience, even, at the Priday afternoon matinée, while the floral parade was in progress. The attendance fell off somewhat at Saturday's performances, owing to the rain. Papinta's dances were given somewhat under difficulties in the orange city, as the electric and stage appliances were not altogether suitable for the class of performances given by her, but the people were delighted with the result nevertheless, and should the charming danseuse ever return to Riverside she would doubtless have a full house. Mr. and Mrs. Holpin returned to this city from Riverside Sunday afternoon, and it was their intention to go from here to the City of Mexico for a brief engagement, but after consulting with the Mexican Consul yesterday as to the probable cost of a trip to Mexico, with the amount of baggage Papinta has to carry, and the facilities for giving a successful performance at the Mexican capital, the project was abandoned. Papinta is a native Californian and a thorough American and has never performed in any foreign country, although she has had flattering offers for her services abroad. She was urged to visit Paris durins the exposition, but the American public has always been so appreciative of her work that she has decided to confine her public performances to the American stage for the time being.

With a view to putting a stop to the operations of highwaymen, and in order that the possibility of capturing some of these criminals may be increased, the City Council yesterday authorized the appointment of ten additional special policemen. To stimulate efforts to capture the murderers by two highwaymen Saturday night, the Council has offered a reward of $150 the Council has offered a reward of $150 for the arrest and conviction of the perpetrators of that crime. The ten additional men will be placed on beats and from the regular force ten men will be added to the existing bleycle squad, and will be assigned to duty patroling the residence districts. As an additional protection, the day force of policemen will be reduced and the night force increased, so that the city will be better policed at night than ever before in its history.

A special meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners was held at 11 o'clock. All members were present except Mr. Parker. Mr. Ling called the attention of the other members of the board to the hold-up in Boyle Heights Saturday night, which had resulted in a murder. He thought the condition of affairs to be such as to warrant the board's asking the City Council to take some action to assist the police department. He said he had consulted with members of the Council as to the feasibility of offering a reward, but the Councilmen 414 not think it wise that the city be advertised in that manner, and they had suggested that instead of a reward, ten additional men be employed to better patrol the city. POOR LIGHTING SERVICE. CONTINUATION OF COMPLAINTS. At the afternoon session of the City Council yesterday President Silver called attention to the fact that despite the promises that had been made by the electric companies, the lighting service is not what it should be. Mr. service is not what it should be said silver stated that complaints are continuous, and he desired that the committee again look into the matter and ascertain whether or not some remedy

Chairman Vetter of the Gas and Light Committee, replied somewhat testily that within the half-hour before the matter was called to his attention he had taken the contracting company to task for shortcomings in the execution of the contract. He did not know what else the committee could do. He declared that the matter would deertainly be attended to, and that the members of the Council.

President Silver responded that he had not intended to convey the impression that the committee is not doing its work properly, but the fact remains its work properly of the committee were is not doing its work properly. President Sliver responded that he had not intended to convey the impression that the committee is not doing its work properly, but the fact remains that despite the efforts of the committee the lighting service is not what the city pays for, and he thought it was proper that the attention of the committee be called to the matter.

The complaints of poor street lighting in have not been confined to any given section, but they have been made by residents of all parts of the city. The price which the city is paying for lights this year is lower than it has ever paid before, and more trouble has been experienced with the street lighting since the present contract went into effect than under any previous contract. So frequent have been the complaints that there is a growing sentiment among the members of the City Council in favor of the holding up of the bills of the company has had to contend with many difficulties since the contract went into effect, but repeated promises have been made that the service would be improved.

The matter came up when the report of the City Attorney was presented. To that official had been referred the question as to whether the Council can legarify grant such franchises as are asked for. His report was to the effect that the Council can legarify grant such franchises, but the city will receive no pecuniary benefit, as the franchises cannot be effered for sale. Commissioner Ling suggested that all reputable citizens be requested to tender their services to the department, and that they be sworn in as special policemen, but for fear this privilege might be abused by some of incess quazi officers, the suggestion was not adopted. It was finally agreed that such of the specials as can not ride bicycles be placed on duty in the places of regular men who are wheelmen, and that the bicycle squad be increased as much as possible. Chief Eliton stated that with the ten additional men he would have a bicycle squad of nineteen, and that he might possibly be able to increase the number. He considered one man on a bicycle worth four men afoot in point of the territory they could cover, and the actual police work they could perform.

Mr. To'l stated that it was understood that the appointment of these men was to be considered simply as an emergency measure; that they were to be paid by requisition, and that their services were to be dispensed with at the pleasure of the Council. With this understanding the Council approved the recommendation of the Police Commission, and authorized the appointment today of the additional men.

REWARD OFFERED.

It had been supposed by the members of the Council, or at least by some of them, that the action of authorizing the appointment of ten additional men, was to be considered as a substitute for granting the request by the Chief of Police for a reward. Just before the final adjournment of the Council, however, Councilman Vetter asked what had been deferred. He then stated that while he was of the MSCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.

The information against Mrs. Pierce charges her with stealing diamonds worth perhaps $1500 from a paralytic old gentleman named Daniel Thatcher of Garvanza. She says he gave them to her—but she left in a hurry for San Francisco, and was lost all trace of until last December—about a year after the jewels were stolen. The case was tried once before, and judgment entered by default, but a new trial was granted upon a showing that the plaintiff took the action to trial without any motion to set the cause or without any consent from the defendant. Again judgment goes against Mrs. Brose, who says it is all because her most important witness. against Mrs. Brose, who says it is all because her most important witness could not be present, and she was too poor to have his deposition taken.

In July, 1898, Brose alleges that he owned three lots down on the river near the Santa Fé depot, and was negotiating to sell them. Before the sale was congammated, however, he was lengaged to go to work in Pomona, where he remained about three months. Before setting out for Pomona, therefore, he authorized and empowered his wife to sell the property for him and turn over to him the amount of the consideration over and above such sums as might exist as liens of the consideration over and above such sums as might exist as liens against the lots.

Mrs. Brose got $300 for the property. But she did not turn the money or any part of it over to her husband, but, on the contrary, took some of it and purchased ten acres of land out in the country somewhere, and had the same conveyed to herself. When the husband demanded his money of her, she refused to comply, and he brought suit against her, declaring that the acreage property had been purchased without his knowledge or consent, and in fraud of his rights.

Such is the husband's story on which he was given judgment. Mrs. Brose

EFFORTS TO SECURE TWO OF THE STATE CONVENTIONS.

Both Republican and Democratic State Organizations to Be Invited

it was rather late in the day to try to secure it.

Manager Potter of the Hotel Van Nuys said he would feel as amed of Los Angeles if it could not raise $2000 for such a purpose. He believed the amount could be secured without difficulty if the proper effort were made, other landlords present agreed with him, and it was resolved to invite the Republican State Convention to meet here also. It was remarked that if the Democratic convention came here, to me it was pretty certa'n that the Republican convention would follow suit. Temporary organization was effected by electing F. O. Johnson of the Westminster president, and H. Alden of the Nadeau secretary. Mr. Potter was appointed a committee of one to invite leading grocers and butchers; Mr. Billicke to invite leading saloon men and Mr. Hart leading cigar men, to attend a meeting in the parlors of the Westminster at 1:30 o'clock next Monday afternous; to confer with the and Mr. Hart leading cigar men, to attend a meeting in the pariors of the Westminster at 1:30 o'clock next Monday afternoon; to confer with the hotel men as to ways and means for inducing the conventions of the two leading political parties of the State to meet in Los Angeles this year.

No political State convention of any kind has been held in this city since 1888, when the Democratic State Convention to select delegates to the national convention, met here. Senator R. F. Del Valle presided over that convention. The Republican State Convention which nominated John F. Swift for Governor, met here in 1885. For the last ten years all the State conventions have been held in the northern part of the State, most of them in Sacramento. The Capital city is no parsimonious in the matter of providing accommodations for the delegates but the weather is usually so sultry at Sacramento in summer, when conventions are held, as to make it exceedingly uncomfortable for the politicians. If put to no greater expense, the delegates will prefer to come to Los Angeles, and it is all but certain that the State central committees will favor holding the conventions in this city.

The weather here is pleasant in August, and many of the delegates from the north and interior would bring their families here to cool off. The hotel accommodations at that time of year are ample to accommodate all comers, and the influx of so many people at that time would help to enliven business at the duliest period of the year. It is estimated that each convention would bring from 4000 to 5000 people to the city. Therefore, the hotel men feel constrained to make a strenuous effort to induce both State nominating conventions to meet here. The Republican State Convention to select delegates to the national conventions to meet here.

strenuous effort to induce both Statis nominating conventions to meet here. The Republican State Convention to select delegates to the national convention has already been called to meet in Sacramento, and the Democratic convention for the same purpose will probably meet there also, but it is reasonably certain that one or both of the later conventions can be induced to meet in Los Angeles.

MOST PAINFUL MOMENT.

SO PASTOR PRITCHARD TOLD THE PRESBYTERY YESTERDAY.

Troubles of the First Presbyterian Church Come Before the Council of the Elders-Mr. Pritchard Save He Does not Understand Certain Allegations-Pastoral Tie Severed.

Rev. A. B. Pritchard's services as day evening, when he will preach for the last time from the pulpit he has filled for almost two years. That it is to the best interests of the church that the tie be severed, was the unanimous opinion of the Los Angeles Presbytery when at its meeting yeserday Rev. Pritchard's resignation was accepted. The action was not a surprise. There were but two roads open—to grant the wish of the pastor and that of the majority of the congregation, or to force upon the former duties that, in light of recent events, could not be otherwise than distasteful.

When the trustees, deacons and elders of the First Presbyterian Church held a joint session two weeks ago, during the absence of the pastor, their presiding officer, a message was sent, asking that Mr. Pritchard tender his resignation, and the pastor, did so. A meeting of the congregation was held Wednesday last when, by a vote of 52 to 33, his resignation was accepted.

When the Los Angeles Presbytery convened in the church yesterday, it there was an air of suppressed feeling. After disposing of some unimportant matters, Rev. Henry A. Newell, who presided, asked if there was any more business before the session. This was the signal, and amid profound silence, Mr. Pritchard arose and said: "This is one of the most painful moments of my life—yea, the most painful. I believe it is the will of my Master that my work as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of this city should terminate. I have been aware for some time past that are draped with the national colors, and here and there Masonic emblems are blasoned in electric lights. There has been no organized attempt to make a great show in honor of the wearers of the Maltene cross, but their welcome by the citizens and the resident Templars is none the less hearty. The freedom of the city and the fullness thereof is theirs, and without stint while late.

The first contingent to arrive was a special train bearing California Commandery. No. 1. of San Francisco and the colors of the city and the fullness thereof is theirs, and without stint while later.

Today's Programme. The first contingent to arrive was a special train bearing California Commandery, No. 1, of San Francisco and Cakland Commandery, No. 11, The train was due here at 7:30 a.m. yesterday morning, but did not arrive till 11 o'clock. There was no particular reason for the delay except that the Southern Pacific train department was in an hurry to bring the visitors to Los Angeles: "They just loafed along with no hurry to bring the visitors to Los Angeles: "They just loafed along with the fourney. However, the two commanderies had a very pleasant time on the way down. The train was one of the best equipped of the First Presbyterian Church of this city should terminate. I have been aware for some time past that I have not been accorded the sympathetic and liberal support of members of my congregation. I am not conscious of neglect of the manifold duties that have devolved upon me, but I have always done what I have considered my duty to the church and its officers." Mr. Pritshard went on to say that he recently received the following communication:

E. C. Lockharet took the side of Mr. Pritchard in the controversy, and he did not mince words in his denunciation of the officers of the church for having brought about the present unpleasant task of the presbytery. He said he would have liked to hear what Mr. Duncan had to say, but the fact that he was not to be heard was of small moment compared with other facts which the presbytery had to face in the matter. With reference to the letter which the officers of the church had sent Mr. Pritchard, Mr. Lockharet declared that, even as officers of the church, they had no right to send such a communication, which he considered insulting in its tone and in the manner in which it had been prepared. "This is not a mere mater of personal feeling," said he. "There is an important principle at stake and one which the presbytery should not fall to act upon properly. I believe the officers of this church should be severely censured for taking the action they did. Their offer of two months' vacation was little short of a demand that Mr. Pritchard leave the State, and their offer to pay him his salary while away for two months cannot be viewed in any other light than that of an insult. It was almost an offer of a bribe." The speaker then reviewed the financial condition of the church at length, declaring that the church was in a much more prosperous condition when Mr. Pritchard took charge than before. He stated that the presbytery itself was not without fault because it had assigned Mr. Pritchard took charge than before. He stated that the presbytery itself was not without fault because it had assigned Mr. Pritchard took charge than before. He stated that the prestyler witself was not without fault because it had assigned Mr. Pritchard took charge than before. He stated that the prestyler witself was not without fault because it had assigned Mr. Pritchard took charge than before. He stated that the prestyle with the manner in which some California congregations transact their business. He declared that the practice was too f ASKED TO STEP OUT. "At the request of the board of trustees of the First Presbyterian Church of Los Angeles, Cal., a joint meeting of its elders, deacons and trustees was held at the close of the service Sunday morning, April 8, 1900, and the following resolution was

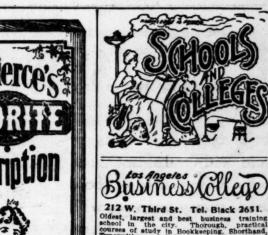

1900, and the following resolution was unanimously adopted, to wit:

"Whereas, the board of trustees of this church has notified the officers thereof at a joint meeting, held Sunday, April 8, 1900, of its inability to meet the financial obligations of the church under existing conditions, and the growth of the church numerically and financially under the present pastorate does not warrant a continuation of such conditions, therefore be it "Resolved, that it is the sense in behalf of all present at this joint meeting that it is their duty, as officers, to advise the pastor, Rev. A. B. Pritchard, of their unanimous opinion that there should be a change in the pastorate of the church at an early date; furthermore, that the church will grant him a leave of absence of two months, under pay, provided he should so East for whetever

Instaurch not later than June 30, 1900."
Regarding the charges that the church had not the two his financial standing, Mr. Pritchard stated that the fiscal year ended April, 1899, showed that $2728.20 had been collected. For the year ended April, 1890, there had been raised $4843.49. As to the growth of the congregation, he said the membership in July, 1898, was sixty-one; that the membership today was 162. "If we have not developed," said he, "I do not understand it." Mr. Pritchard closed with the request that his resignation be accepted.

and the officers of the church has become so wide and as there is no possibility of proper relations as pastor and congregation being renewed, the presenter, although it was of the ppinion that many, perhaps a majority, of the congregation favored Mr. Pritchard's retention, decided unanimously to accept his resignation. The resignation will take effect next Sunday evening, as stated, and the question of what salary the congregation is to allow the retiring pastor is to be left to him and the congregation. H. A. Newell was appointed to announce to the congregation next Sunday that the pulpit has been declared vacant.

CASTILLO ARRAIGNED.

CHARGED WITH THE MURDER OF "PELON" JOHNSON. vendor, who is accused by police offi-cers, and the Coroner's jury of having killed "Pelon" Johnson, was arraigned before Justice Austin yesterday after-preliminary examination was set for tomorrow at 3 p.m.

Castillo claims to have been so drunk Friday night that he does not know how Johnson came to his death, but the officers say he has told omflicting the officers has told omflicting stories. According to the officers, the other two Mexicans, who were drinking with Johnson and Castillo at the latter's filthy den on New High street Friday afternoon, left on the 5:30 p.m. train for the ranch, where they work. They-eame to town early in the afternoon and went to Castillo's place, where they regaled themselves on tamales and "dago red."

The officers say they have talked with these men, and that they will be in court tomorrow to testify at Castillo's preliminary examination. Their stories of the events of Friday afternoon do not tally with Castillo's tales, who, they say, frequently quarreled with Johnson.

RESUME WORK AGAINST OR-DERS OF TRADES COUNCIL. [A. P. EARLY A.M. REPORT.] CHICAGO, April 23.-The Tribune

"Against the explicit orders of the Building Material Trades Council, all of the brass moulders who struck at the Western Electric Company's plant six weeks ago have voted to return to work. Their decision was the subject of a long debate at the meeting of the council last evening, and the delegates finally concluded to defer action until the brass moulders shall have carried their announced intenaction until the brass moulders shall have carried their announced intention into effect today.

The brass moulders number only sixty, but their union practically includes all the members of the trade in the city. They struck in sympathy with the machinists, and when the managers of the company found that it was impossible to find skilled men to fill their places, offered, inducements for them to return. Now that they have rebelled against the authority of the Building Material Trades Council it is probable that they will be expelled from that organization."

of this acid poison reaches the skin and it becomes red and inflamed. The itching and burning are almost unbearable, especially when overheated from any cause. The skin seems on fire, sleep or rest is impossible, the desperate sufferer, regardless of consequences, scratches until strength is exhausted.

This burning, itching humor appears sometimes in little pustules, discharging a sticky fluid, which forms crusts and scales. Again the skin is dry, hard and fissured, itches intensely, bleeds and scabs over. This is a painful and stubborn form of the disease.

While Eczema, Tetter, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum and many like troubles are spoken of as diseases of the skin, they are really blood diseases, because

THERE CAN BE NO EXTERNAL IRRITATION

WITHOUT AN INTERNAL CAUSE.

If the blood is in a pure, healthy condition, no poisonous elements can reach the skin.

External applications of washes, lotions and salves sometimes mitigate the itching and soothe the inflammation, but cannot reach the disease. Only S. S. S., the real blood medicine, can do this.

S. S. S., the only purely vegetable remedy known, is a safe and permanent cure for Eczema and all deep-seated blood and skin troubles. It goes direct to the seat of the disease, neutralizes the acids and cleanses the blood, re-inforces and invigorates all the organs, and thus clears the system of all impurities through the natural channels; the skin relieved, all inflammation subsides, and all signs of the disease disappear.

NEW TREASURY RULING. The Comptroller of the Currency has issued a circular, which says: "Under authority of section 5193, United States Revised Statutes, national banks have heretofore been permitted to deposit with any assistant treasurer of the United States lawful money in sums of not less than $10,000, and to receive therefor a certificate of deposit, which certificate they were authorized to count as a part of their lawful-money reserve. Section 6 of the act of March 14, 1900, known as the 'Currency Bill,' repeals this entire section of the Revised Statutes, and in consequence the banks will hereafter be prohibited from counting such certificates as part of their lawful reserve. There are about $14,500,000 of these certificates now outstanding, which are held entirely by the banks in the principal cities of the East, with the exception of two or three western cities, and are indicated in the reports as United States certificates of deposit."

SUGAR LOWER. The street as a general rule was very much surprised here yesterday by a telegram from San preserved by a telegram from San Francisco, announcing a drop of 10 cents per cental in the price of sugar. A rise in this commodity had been ex-pected. Raw sugars have been ad-vancing, and only a few days ago, the larbuckles had been forced to restore prices by the firmness of the market for raw.

AUSTRALIA AS A COTTON-GOODS MARKET. In a recent report Consul Bell of Sydney, N. S. W., complains that American cotton manufacturers have overlooked the importance of Australia as a market for cotton goods. Owing to the existence of perennial summer cottons are worn all the year round by the majority of Australians. Lawns, muslins and other light fabrics are more extensively used in Australia than in any European country. If American export houses would enter this trade steps must be taken toward the adoption of a system which will have for its object the thorough study of the warts of Australians. Consul Bell says that the factories in Australia are run solely for the home market, and that when business gets a little dull and goods accumulate the surplus is unloaded upon the foreign market and a short-lived foreign trade is opened. But as soon as the temporary lull has given way to a "boom" at home customers abroad are neglected, competitors secure the market and the foreign trade is left to be recovered with the additional handicap of shaken faith. "When it is remembered," says Consul Bell, "that the people of New South Wales alone annually import 'drapery' to, the amount of $5,000,000, and that the importation of cotton manufactures into Australia about equals the total exportation of these goods from the United States, our manufacturers AUSTRALIA AS A COTTON-GOODS

ould appreciate the wisdom of cater g to the Australian market."

DO NOT LIKE THE GRINGOS. The New Orleans Times-Democrat has this: "American business men in Havana are having a hard time of it, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding," said one of the passengers on the Aransas, which was the last boat up from the island. "I am confident that not one of them is making a cent, and the majority of them have undoubtedly lost heavily. I am speaking now of the people who have opened shops and other places of business. For a few weeks after the occupation they did pretty well, but as soon as the novelty wore off they began to lose trade, and it has been getting worse and worse ever since. At present the patronage of the American stores is confined almost entirely to the American colony, which is insufficient to keep them up. They are practically boycotted by the Cubans and Spaniards."

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO. April 22.—There was a whole bunch of bearish consideration presented for view in the wheat pit at the beginning of trade. Cables were easier, world's shipments heavy, there was an increase on passage, and the weather continued favorable. It was expected that there would be considerable liquidation on May this week, but it did not make the continued favorable. It was expected that there would be considerable liquidation on May this week, but it did not make the continued favorable. It was expected that there would be considerable liquidation on May this week, but it did not not began to come out, however, and there was selling in sympathy with the break in corn. May hesitated early, balking at the 65-cent mark, but the liquidation carried the prico through that. The market was very weak at this time, but the selling paved the way for noon. The short sellers concluded not to remain in that condition over night, and bought back some of their early sales and turned what looked like a buil rout into a sort of retreat in good order, as the dispatches have it. A meeting of the Americus Club was held tonight and twenty-three new members were elected. Battallon drill received a severe swat in the vicinity ties to the suit were not at once made public.

The trouble originated, so far as the public is concerned, over a dry goods bill for about $100, contracted at Liepsic & Israel's store by Mrs. Thompson, Mr. Thompson, on going to pay the bill, found that it had been increased by about $20, by reason of recent purchases of his wife. He is eaid to have reasoned with Liepsic in words that were warm, protesting against his wife making what he considered to be extravagant purchases. Leipsic inquired if Mrs. Thompson's credit was to be refused in the future. Mr. Thompson replied that his wife's credit was good, but that Leipsic must not "force" or "hypnotize" her into buying goods—or words to that effect. Not long after Thompson called again at the Leipsic store, to learn that a dress worth $50, trimmings included, was in a stage of completion—for Mrs. Thompson. Things popped all along the line, until Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and Leipsic set fogether; a few days later, in the Thompson apartments at the hotel.

Thompson had said to Leipsic, con-ceraing Mrs. Thompson's credit. The statements of the men disagreed, and on being appealed to on a question of veracity bitween the two, Mrs. Themp-son is said to have sided with Leipsic, intimating at the same time that her husband was a brute. Then it was that Thompson struck Leipsic. The twelve-year-old daughter had just re-turned from school, and was sent to comfort her mother.

The following day Mrs. Thompson went to Les Angeles, where she now is. Her complaint in the libel for divorce is racy. In it she states that she is a woman of a refined, sensitive disposition, and that her husband is a man of a penurious nature, who has a man of a penurious nature, who has

she is a woman of a refined, sensitive disposition, and that her husband is a man of a penurious nature, who has habitually been cruel to her, causing her grievous mental suffering and affecting her bodily health. The marriage took place thirteen years ago. In 1888, a daughter was born. The pomplaint alleges that when she was lill in bed, the defendant insisted upon her getting up and attending to the household duties. When referring to the child, he is alleged to have said: "I am not sure that it is my child." The plaintiff is fond of society and social functions. She is a member of the Current Events Club. In her complaint she alleges that her husband has always been averse to attending any affairs of a social nature, or of supplying suitable clothes for her; that he has treated her in a cruel and inconsiderate manner, in public, as well as in private, rebuking her in the presence of guests, and servants; that he has not shown due respect to members of her family, and a lot of other things. BURLINGAME WINS AT POLO. SANTA BARBARA, April 23.—[Reg-ular Correpondence.] The Burlingame polo team won a hard-fought victory here today from the men of the Riv-erside Club. The score of 10 to 3 carerside Club. The score of 10 to 3 car-ries the Coast championship, with four very handsome silver trophy cups. From the score no one could adequately form an opinion of the game. Burlin-game made nearly all of the scores in form an opinion of the game. Burlingame made nearly all of the scores in the first ten minutes of the second period of play. During several Intervals there were no scores at all, and during much of the time Riverside played the better game.

Burlingame scored in the first half, first period; second half, no score. Bettner of Riverside had two teeth knocked out. In the first half, second period, Burlingame scored 6 to Riverside's 1 goal. In the second half Hobart of Burlingame sent a fong drive through goal. The ball hit Joe Brabbo full in the face, rendering him unconscious, but not seriously wounding him. Both sides scored goals in this half. In the first half of the last period no goals were made. In the second half, Pread of Riverside took Wright's place. Wright was exhausted from playing an excellent game. Riverside scored third goal. The Burlingame team was made up of Hobart, Tobin, Driscol and Dumphy, and the Riverside team of Maud, Bettner, Dole, Wright and Pread.

SANTA CATALINA ISLAND. WORRIED ABOUT THE MASCOT AVALON (Santa Catalina Island,) April 23 .- [Regular Correspondence.]

AVALON (Santa Catalina Island,) April 23.—[Regular Correspondence] The launch Mascot is again the object of solicitude. The little boat has been making her way down from Monterey, having left there about two weeks ago. On the 18th ehe was at Santa Barbara, where Mrs. Corneli wrote a postal to Mrs. J. W. Williams of this place, saying they had arrived there the previous evening, and would remain that day, probably resuming their voyage the next day. They had lost their skiff in the rough sea at Point Sur, but had rounded Point Concepcion rafely.

Yesterday the Matblehead, Harry Olsen, master, a small fishing craft, put into Avalon Bay on account of rough weather outside, on her way to San Clemente Island. There are several boats in the fleet which are fishing for a San Pedro firm, and Olsen had met the gang, who were fishing up the coast toward Santa Barbara, and they had told him of having encountered a wreck in a heavy sea off Point Dimas on Thursday evening, just at dark. They had approached closely enough they said, to make out that it was a launch upside down, as they could see the propeller as the waves tossed the wreck about, and it had the appearance of a new boat. The wreck was about three miles off shore, and as they were looking for shelter, they could not take any chances by attempting to pick it up. The description of the boat and the time and place of its finding, correspond all too well with what is known of the Mascot. The probable intention of start-

From Mrs. Sunter to Mrs. Pinkham.

"One year ago last June three doctors gave me up to die, and as I had at different times used your Vegetable Compound with good results, I had too much faith in it to die until I had tried it again. I was apparently an invalid, was confined to my bed for ten weeks. (I believe my trouble was ulceration of womb).

"After taking four bottles of the Compound and using some of the Liver Pills and Sanative Wash, at the end of two months I had greatly improved and weighed 155 pounds, when I never before weighed over 138. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best medicine I ever used, and I recom-mend it to all my friends."—Mrs. ANNA EVA GUNTER, HIGGINSVILLE, Mo.

Mrs. Barnhart Enjoys Life Once More. "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM-I had been sick ever since my marriage, seven years ago; have given birth to four children, and had two miscarriages. I had falling of womb, leucorrhea, pains Mrs. N. ing from Santa Barbara Thursday morning would bring the boat to Point Dimas that afternoon. The Mascot was launched but two months ago, and is bright and new, as described, and there are few launches along the coast from San Diego to San Francisco. The hope is still entertained that the fishermen, in the gathering gloom and in the heavy rain which was then beating down upon them, may have been mistaken as to having seen a propeller. There were them, may have been mistaken as to having seen a propeller. There were supposed to have been aboard the Mascot, Capt. George N. Cornell and wife. Al. Shade, and probably a San Pedro man by the name of Phillips. The Alpha of San Pedro, was in the bay this morning, and reported that nothing had been seen or heard of the Mascot at San Pedro.

The Point of View.

"I think the fewest people are leaving this part of the country in any spring for eight years." quoth the second-hand man sadly. "I can't get half as many goods as usual to sell. Beems as though nobody is breaking up. Things look dark." That is, for the second-hand man. The rest of us can stand it. Beresford's Visit.

Arthur Beresford, who sang the leading role in the oratorio of "Elijah." will not return East for a few days. He has decided to remain in Los Angeles in order to take part in the musical evening to be given on Wednesday night by Mme. Geneva Johnstone-Bishop at the residence of Mrs. O. P. Posey.

The first Democratic club in this city this year was organized at a mass meeting of the Democrats of the Eighth Ward, last evening at Painter's Flighth Ward, last evening at Painter's Hail on Aliso street. A number of holders of large property interests in the violativ were present, and toward the close of the meeting resolutions were adopted protesting against the granting of a railroad franchise along Commercial and Vignes streets, and requesting the Councilman from the Flighth Ward to defeat the application.

Two men, named Bert O'Bryan and Perry Myre, were lodged in the City Jail last night on account of a row that occurred in front of the Bullard Block on North Spring street last Saturday about 12 p.m. O'Bryan is oharged with disturbing the peace, and Myre has a battery charge to answer. On Saturday night, while the two menwere quarreling, a deputy constable came along and ordered them to cease, One of the two men, it is said, struck the officer and then the pair made off. The deputy constable arrested the men on a warrant on Main street last evening.

Athletic Club Entertainment.

The members of the companies now playing at the Orpheum and Burbank theaters, were the guests of the members of the Los Angeles Athletic Clubat a stein dinner in the gymnasium of the clubhouse on South Spring street last night. Between 8:30 and 9:20 o'clock the club orchestra gave a concert in the parlors of the clubhouse, and later dinner was served to more than 100 members and guests of the club. A special musical programme was rendered by some of the guests, and later the entire party engaged in dancing.

Burgiary at Manhattan Station.

Some time Sunday night burgiars broke into the Terminal station at Manhattan and secured a ticket case containing $55. About 9:15 o'clock, The Boyer, the ticket agent, made up his remittance, and placed it in a case on a table in the outer office. The agent then retired in an adjoining room. When he jawoke in the morning the case had disappeared. It was subsequently found in a bunch of willows about two hundred yards down the track, minus the money. The burgiars gained entrance to the station through a window. Superintendent W. A McGovern reported the affair to the police yesterday, and a detective was detailed to investigate.
